

Paraphrasing World Events

(By H. C.)

The consensus is that the terms of the Versailles treaty were unduly onerous. Looking afar into the future the Allies could have afforded to write much more lenient terms in Berlin instead of Versailles.

John Strachey says he is a Communist but does not belong to the organization. We can understand that. There are many Christians who do not go to church, or belong to any communion.

If war does take place now, can we blame it on the munition makers?

Slightly altered from Campbell's "Downfall of Poland"—"And Freedom shrieked as Pilsudski fell" for Hitler.

Liberals meeting in Ottawa to honor their leader, prophesied his early return to power. Maybe they have in mind two lines of an old Southern song, slightly changed:
It must be now that King is comin'
In de yeah of Jubilee.

General Ludendorff and everybody else in Germany have now to take orders from a man who was only a corporal in the war. It must be bitter medicine for the sergeant-major.

Strachey says he does not belong to the Communist organization, but he writes like a Communist, speaks like one, acts like one, looks like one, admits he is one, and has the same conscientious objection to deportation, but not to the attendant publicity.

The man who represents a constituency, especially now, needs patience and forbearance. If he can suffer fools gladly he has the right temperament. If he can't, he had better make up his mind to quit. That's what John Steven McGraw is doing. He is sick—sick of his constituents, and has determined to give up his California seat in Congress. Therefore he can speak his mind and so he has written one of his constituents that "One of the countless drawbacks of public service is that I am compelled to receive impertinent letters from a jackass like you in which you say I promised to have the Sierra Madre mountains reforested

Easter Holidays Short For Students This Year

Business Transacted at Regular Monthly Meeting on Monday Night

On Monday, April 8th, members of the Board of Vulcan School District, No. 1902, assembled in the municipal office for the April meeting. All trustees were present. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Doney of the teaching staff spoke to the board about the coming Musical Festival to be held in High River on May 17th, 1935. He was given assurance that the board would render every assistance in obtaining suitable accommodation for the local elimination contest, and obtaining transportation to High River.

School students and teaching staff will have shorter Easter holidays this year, according to the motion made and passed at the meeting, that Easter holidays would include only Good Friday and Easter Monday. This was due to the long holiday period given at Christmas time. The usual Easter holiday lasts one week.

A letter from the Municipal District of Royal was read with regards to the school district moving location of business office.

Moved by Trustee Almond that the expense of typing the investigating committee's report be left to the ratepayers meeting. Motion carried.

The following accounts were read and passed for payment on motion by Trustee Graham: Calgary Power $8.80; Express $1.20; Vulcan Supply $10.40; G. Monkman $14.75; Vulcan Advocate $3.85; J. Wolfe $9.50; Telephone account $6.16; Wilson Scientific $7.17.

The meeting adjourned until the report of the investigating committee was received.

Legion Banquet Held By Queenstown Branch

On Wednesday evening, April 3rd, the Vimy banquet and dance staged annually by Queenstown members of the Gleichen branch, Canadian Legion, was held in Queenstown. The ladies, as usual, provided a very bountiful repast, to which all present did justice. Among the visitors were the following members of the Marquis Municipal Council and their wives: M. H. Ward, of Arrowwood; Donald Sinclair of Vulcan, and Steve Williams, Queenstown. Comrades P. B. Discher and Dr. G. M. Carson were visitors from Vulcan, and Provincial President Walter Bullard, of Calgary represented the Provincial Command.

The after-dinner program opened with all rising for a minute's silence in memory of the fallen. Wm. Osler President of the Gleichen Branch, welcomed members and their friends and visitors, and proposed the toast to His Majesty the King. He then called on Comrade Discher of Vulcan who proposed the toast to the Provincial Command. Provincial President Walter Bullard, in replying, stated that after the banquet he was too full, almost, for words.

Comrade Bullard referred to the development of the veterans' organization to the present stage of unity and stated all representations to the Parliament of Canada were now made by a body on which all the veterans' organizations were represented—the Associated Veterans.

The officers of the Provincial Command had found that certain figures as to the cost of this change had been presented in Parliament when the bill was proposed, and that these figures were far from correct. Upon investigation made in connection with the situation in Alberta, they had concluded that the actual cost of giving all veterans over 50 years of age an allowance of $40.00 per month would entail an increased expenditure of $6,000,000 a year, but the saving in relief now being paid would reduce this figure to $2,800,000 annually. Further they believed the figure would be now at the peak, and would decrease with the passing years. These figures had been presented to the committee of Parliament, and he believed, in view of the reception given the veterans' representatives that there was good hope of the amendment to the Act going through. Comrade Bullard had praise to offer to the members of the Federal Parliament from Alberta, a number of whom he stated, were sacrificing their health and strength in the service of their country. He also expressed appreciation of the manner in which Premier Reid, himself a member of the Legion, had dealt with any requests made to the Provincial Government. Finally, he appealed for the returned men to get out and support their organization and bring the membership up where it should be.

Mr. M. H. Ward, Reeve of M. D. Marquis No. 157, proposed the toast to the visitors. Dr. Carson of Vulcan, in replying, made humorous reference to his inability to be present at the 1934 banquet due to his attending "the birth of the nation" but he was pleased to be present in 1935. In his opinion the present outlook is not so dark as it might seem, and he was convinced the solution would come, although not under the present economic system. While we have religious and political liberty we have not yet secured economic liberty and he believed that to be the next step to be taken, and believed it would come within two years. In closing he expressed appreciation of the invitation to be present on his own behalf and also on behalf of the other visitors.

The banquet was followed by a monster dance in the Community hall.

The regular meeting of the Johnny Canucks Jr. U.F.A. local was held at the home of Mr. Joe Richardson recently. Vice-president Delbert Bateman was in the chair. After a very interesting and enjoyable meeting Lorna Richardson served the group with lunch.

Jerry Fuller and his orchestra again proved a drawing attraction for the dancers of Vulcan and district on Friday evening, under auspices of the Odd Fellow's lodge. The crowd was not quite as large as on the previous Friday, when the same orchestra played. As usual the dancers enjoyed the music.

D. D. McQueen who has been associated for many years with A. J. Flood in municipal secretarial duties has been appointed secretary-treasurer for M.D. of Royal. Mr. McQueen is very capable and competent in this work and the appointment should be popular. The ill health of Mr. Flood, which necessitated his resignation, is greatly regretted as he has given very able service to the district.

On Friday, April 5th, members of the Mayview U.F.A. and the Johnny Canuck Jr. U.F.A., and other citizens of the community visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw to wish them luck before their departure to their new home in the Caroline district. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and family have been residents of the district for nearly 17 years, and every one views their departure with regret. Mr. James Stein, on behalf of all present read a letter of well wishing, and Miss Betty Hay presented Mr. and Mrs. Shaw with a token of esteem. The evening was spent at games, all enjoying themselves.

Under auspices of the Johnny Canuck Jr. U.F.A., three one-act plays and a skit were recently presented at the Mayview school. The plays were titled "The Dearest Thing in Boats," "The Radio Widow," and "The Terrible Meek." A negro skit was presented by Delbert Bateman and Raymond Gerding, which proved very funny. The players in all the plays acted their parts well, and credit is due to all. The plays were directed in order, by Misses May Bateman, Betty Hay and Bernice Finley. Miss Florence Gold acted as announcer during the presentation. The committee and members are to be congratulated on their endeavors. Following the programme dancing was enjoyed to music supplied by Lorna and Lee Richardson, and Joe Gerding.

Bank night prizes at the Vulcan theatre Tuesday evening were both drawn and awarded to members of the audience. The first prize of $20 was won by Lowell Granlin, who was registered under ticket number 195. The second prize of the evening, a sum of $10.00 was won by Harry Larouche, whose ticket, number 38 was drawn from the tub. Mr. W. E. Butch art officiated at the drawing, and Miss Lockhart made the actual drawing. A large crowd attended the picture programme, and the auditorium was packed for both shows. On next Tuesday the Bank Night will be cancelled, due to the Mothers' Association sponsorship of the picture, "Treasure Island" on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. But the week following, Tuesday, April 23, he Bank Night feature will be resumed, when the usual $10.00 prize will be given to the lucky patron holding the drawn ticket.

Double Wrestling Card Demonstrates Mat Art

Good Exhibitions of Wrestling Given On Legion Card; Challenge Issued to Melnick

Fans of the grunt and growl game turned out to see a double card at the Memorial hall under auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion on Thursday evening of last week. Good exhibitions of wrestling were given in the main double header. The fans were well pleased and got their monies' worth. Special seating arrangements were made, in the auditorium, and the wrestling mat was laid in centre floor for the bouts. The attendance was not the best that was expected, but officials in charge came out of the "red" and everyone was satisfied.

The card opened with an exhibition of boxing by two Vulcan lads, the McKenzie brothers. These lads displayed plenty of metal and pleased the crowd. The bout was declared a draw.

The first wrestling bout between Melnick and Johnston was the favorite one for the fans. Melnick, a master at the art of showmanship went through all the contortions known to the art. He found tough opposition in Verne Johnston of Saskatoon, 152 lbs. Darby Melnick hails from Calgary; he weighed in at 148 lbs. The bout was billed for eight ten minute rounds, but only went the route to the sixth, Melnick getting two out of three falls. Melnick was awarded the first fall after three minutes of the third round had passed. Johnston gained the second fall in the first minute of the fourth round, and Melnick won the bout after four minutes of the sixth round had passed.

Don Ferguson, 165 lbs. of Calgary tackled with "Swede" Mossfelt, 168 lbs., who claims Sweden his home country. In the second bout of the evening, Ferguson, a clean cut man at the game, won the bout with the best two out of three falls.

Percy Podgon refereed all the bouts. About 150 fans attended.

"Swede" Anderson of High River, was present for the card and challenged the winner of the Johnston-Melnick bout for a match to be staged in Vulcan any time. He weighs 140 lbs. The challenge was taken up by Darby Melnick.

The card room has been enlarged, and a hardwood floor is also being laid in this room; the shower baths are being combined in a separate room. The improvements are much needed changes and will be appreciated by the members.

Miss Gladys Ulrich was the guest of honor when Miss Mahle Deal and Mrs. W. D. Campbell received at the latter's home on Saturday, April 6th. Eighteen guests completely surprised the bride-elect. Miscellaneous gifts in a daintily decorated doll carriage were presented to Miss Ulrich by a bride and groom, represented by Miss Mona Allred and Master Allan Clark. The bride-elect had the well wishes of all the guests.

The Red Cross Mutual telephone Co. commenced operations on Monday, April 1st. A number of subscribers turned out to help with the work with the result that one mile of poles was set up. The work commenced at Mr. Dewey Doanes' and then continued to Mrs. Stager's. The poles were taken from the line formerly used by Mr. E. Campbell, who is being connected up with Arrowwood. This shows what can be done by co-operation.

Members of the Vulcan Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Lambert on Friday, April 5th. After the usual business meeting, a demonstration of rug making was given by Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. Menkman. A fortune telling contest was staged by Mrs. Menkman, followed by luncheon served by the hostess. The May meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Peterson, a tea will also be held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Clark during the month.

The Berrywater U.F.W.A. met at the home of Mrs. F. Mensinger on March 29th, with fifteen members and several visitors present. The meeting opened with the repeating of the club women's creed. Work of the new committee, the "steering committee," Mrs. L. A. Douglas, Mrs. H. Douglas and Mrs. V. Adair, was in evidence by the speed with which the business was dispatched. The new programme for 1935 was distributed and perused. A review of the book "Looking Backward," was presented by Mrs. Viola Mensinger. A vivid picture of the utopian conditions of humanity where all people were equal even in economics, was given by the book according to the reviewer. The romantic element was well portrayed throughout the book. The review was interesting. Mrs. Rena Noble trustee for the Milo Co-Operative gave a splendid report of the business dealt with at the annual meeting of the company. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Sinclair on April 10th.

United Church Entry Wins Drama Festival

"His First Dress Suit" Directed by
R. E. Pedersen, Winner; G. M.
Whicher Adjudicator

(By an Observer)
"His First Dress Suit" the United Church Young People's Society entry in the second annual drama festival won the honors of the evening when the three one-act plays were presented before an audience at the Vulcan theatre on Monday evening. Adjudication was given by Mr. G. M. Whicher following the presentation of the last play. No individual criticism was given at the theatre, this being arranged for Wednesday evening when the three groups will meet at the United church hall.

The first play of the evening was the entry presented by the Church of Christ group, "Two Crooks and a Lady," by Eugene Pillott, directed by E. G. Hansell. Those taking character parts in the play were: Buford Walker, Althea Gonyea, Eva Warden, Jean Christie, Robert Gonyea and Lloyd Jones. The play was of the heavy drama type, and very hard in perfect execution. However the cast handled the subject to the best of their ability, presenting good characters.

The second play presented was the prize winner, "His First Dress Suit" by Russel Medcraft, directed by R. E. Pedersen. Cast in this entry were Olive Hill, Royce Clark, Edna McPherson and Harrison Caulfield. This was a comedy that highly pleased the audience with its humorous situations. The cast carried their characters in a very efficient manner.

The last play of the evening to be presented was "Greener Grass," the entry of the Anglican Young Peoples Association, written by Bessie Gray, directed by Bob McElroy. This drama of a discontented family was enacted by the following cast: Eileen Hill, Ruth McFarlane, Eleanor Jones, Walter Ottewill, Albert Collier and Garnet Discher. The players presented their subject on the stage in a sincere manner that gave the adjudicators little choice between this and the honor winning play.

During the intermissions the audience was entertained by Len Davis and his orchestra, who played many selections in their distinctive manner. They added much to the evening's entertainment.

Due to the severe weather only a small crowd turned out to see the plays, the theatre being just over half seated. Those who missed the festival, surely missed an excellent entertainment, revealing much dramatic talent.

Legion Members Hear Magistrate Scott

Vimy celebration was combined with a general meeting of the Vulcan branch of the Canadian Legion, on Tuesday evening this week. The committee in charge obtained the services of Magistrate Scott of Calgary, who addressed the members on the critical time through which the countries of Europe are passing at the present time, and how they are involving every nation of the world. With the aid of a map Mr. Scott touched on every country, dealing at length with the reign of power of Hitler in Germany. He spoke for one hour and a half, and held the attention of the audience completely through the course of the lecture. All were sorry to hear the lecture come to an end. He expressed his desire to return to Vulcan at a future date and address a much larger audience.

Entertainment of the evening was supplied by Len Davis and his orchestra, the Prairie Ramblers, and various members in attendance. During the evening, as in the days of the Great War, rum rations were served. The occasion was an enjoyable and instructive one.

Miss Elsie Kehr of Cayley was a week end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kehr.

SOIL DRIFTING

The probability of soil drifting is much in the minds of people of Southern Alberta. Just storms this year have been alarming, indicating as they have, what may be expected unless rainfall is abundant. They have demonstrated that no great volume of wind is necessary to sweep the soil over the countryside, and have caused apprehension for this reason. The soil is so light and dry that a quite moderate breeze can start it circulating.

It seems very necessary that farmers should get together and adopt some plan, applicable to their particular soil and area which will offset to some extent the menace of drifting. Those who have made a study of the matter assert definitely that soil drifting will always be prevalent. There will be recurrences of droughty periods, during which the situation will be aggravated. And unless some preparedness is undertaken, the conditions prevailing in older western regions will be almost inevitable here.

So far, any attempts at combatting the menace in this district have been by individual effort, voluntarily undertaken. But real effectiveness can be accomplished only by concerted effort, and this is up to farm groups. It would be a true form of co-operation, in self-interest.

Agriculturists advocate a proper working of summer-fallow to keep stubble mixed with top soil, and the use of cover crops as immediate control measures. Strip farming is of course, also advocated as an immediate measure. It is suggested also that a gradual restoration of some of the cropped land to grass, should be followed up. Crested wheat grass is recommended in farm journals as an easy grass with which to get a stand.

It will be remembered that last summer there was a law suit in the Vulcan district over the question of soil drifting. The complainant alleged that his land had suffered through the improper farm methods of his neighbor whose negligence allowed drifting. The case was dismissed for the reason that there was no precedent for such a complaint, there was no accepted practice of soil control, and that a judgment would have opened up endless litigation in farm communities. The judge, however, warned that agricultural methods would have to adapt themselves to the problem, and that the farmer who takes no steps to prevent drifting may, ere long, become liable under the law.

In most farm areas the soil has been worked so zealously that it has no retaining substance, and the condition is obviously growing more acute. Even though fortune should favor the country with a wet year, it seems imperative that the district as a whole, should adopt definite measures to prevent the development of the desert conditions which will be inevitable in dry years under the present system of farming.

DRAMA AND DEBATE

In this district, and all over the province, young people are entering final competitions in dramatic work and in debate. These contests are under the auspices of Young People's Unions, Junior Farm groups, and independent social clubs. They are intensely interesting, as an indication of the type of recreation pursued by the young people. Older people who have followed the contests over a period of years, are delighted with the developing ability both in drama and debate. So far as dramatic work is concerned, the young people are apparently growing much more selective in their tastes. They are fearlessly attempting a study of character and characterization, and have presented drama and tragedy so convincingly as to bring complete response from the audience. The regard to detail in stage settings, and the entire productions have commanded admiration. There is no doubt that the season now almost completed, has been of great educational value, providing mental stimulus of no small order.

The debaters also are improving each year. The topics for debate are a far cry from the trivial subjects of a few years ago. They demand wide reading, and preparation as well as skill in rebuttal. The finalists in these contests have shown a platform ease and ability to combat unexpected argument, which will help them in any situation. And the audiences have gained information on a wide range of topics, through these platform discussions.

It is noted that all over the countryside young people are turning to these forms of winter recreation. Many of the clubs have no outside affiliation, and belong to no League, but stage their debates or little plays out of sheer enjoyment of such forms of entertainment.

Older people who are interested in the trends and tendencies of our young folk as demonstrated by their recreational pursuits, have been impressed with the vigor, alertness and ability displayed on every side.

FARM MORATORIUM

A bill introduced in Legislature in the last few days, is a drastic extension of the Debt Adjustment Act. It is designed for the further protection of resident farmers in Alberta, and covers all subsistence needs, from hospitalization to expenses incurred in growing a crop. The creditors will be greatly restricted in collecting, if this bill becomes law. It is characterized as a farm moratorium.

Both Provincial and Federal Governments are faced with difficulty in evolving laws that will protect all classes of citizens. Recognizing that the foundation of Canada's structure is agriculture, they are concentrating on that element of industry. Although prices for farm products are much better than they were two and three years ago, they are still far below the prices that existed when many farm obligations were contracted. Some form of relief in the matter of these obligations is apparently necessary, but the plan contemplated by the government is drastic. It provides one class with a measure of relief from obligations, without carrying the same principle into all classes.

In legislating for one debtor class, it must be remembered that the creditor also has rights, and that he in turn may be a debtor, but does not come under any protective measure. He has to pay, whether or not he receives. The impression that creditors are bloated plutocrats, is much more widespread than is justified by fact. Many creditors are people of small means, frequently beyond earning age, and absolutely dependent on some assurance of payment. It is their investment which holds the land, and unless adequate attention is given to their rights and their necessities, they in turn will become the next burden of the government.

The exemptions indicated in the new bill may be justified, but they do provide opportunities for evasion of just debts, if a debtor is so disposed. They protect one class of society, but if the protection is at the expense of other classes, there seems to be little gained. And moreover there will be a great reluctance to loan money on farm lands, or to extend any loans in Alberta.

SECESSION AND FREE TRADE

One of our local citizens who can be depended upon for an argument, suggests that the Western provinces secede from the eastern part of Canada, and launch out on a free trade policy. It is his contention that the drain on Western Canadians in supporting Eastern industry has been too great, and that we would be much better off on our own. Western Canada has no great market in the East for any of its products, and has absorbed the manufacturing output of the East with no commensurate return. We have paid toll in long freight hauls and in the tariff protection granted the East, but when we sell we must seek outside markets. He advocates free trade, and buying where we can buy to best advantage. He would retain allegiance to the British Empire, but not to Ottawa. Another step he suggests is the union of the four provinces under one government as one move in economy of administration.

There is no denying that our natural trade route is north and south, rather than east and west. We need to get rid of beef, wheat, and other raw products, in order that we may buy manufactured goods. Free trade with United States would benefit us greatly, and in view of conditions in Western United States, would probably also benefit that country.

Thomas Wayling, Ottawa correspondent for Liberty, calls attention to the advantage of reciprocity in a recent article. Answering a prophecy that United States will see some lean years, he points to the resources available in Canada.

You in America say you are going to be short of beef and pork, vegetables and milk, etc. We have them in Canada. You had a drought in your North-West, losing cattle by hundreds. Two things you need; feed for your surviving cattle and new cattle for re-stocking. We offered you both. That was months ago, and the feed grain still waits shipment. Your red tape and tariffs are keeping it out, the feed you asked for. You need cattle for re-stocking, yet keep up the tariff of 3 cents a pound on our cattle. In desperation your farmers are bringing in Canadian cattle any way, and ultimately that 3 cents will go on the price of your beef. You shut us out of your milk and potato markets, yet we have quantities to feed you.

"If there is another drought in 1935, the United States instead of being a wheat exporting country will be on the import list, needing wheat and possibly no wheat to get. Canada has lots. You were told to reduce acreage, destroy crops and stock, and so on. You did, but the reduction may have been too great.

"Canada has been the bread basket of the United Kingdom, and has supplies in the same basket for U. S. But the real danger in the States is the lag between production and consumption. There is only one answer—Reciprocity between Canada and United States. Goods must be paid for with goods. Canada, selling foodstuffs, would buy American manufactured products. The United States is an industrial nation, suffering from lack of industrial markets. She forgets the one right next door."

MR. BENNETT'S LETTER

Probably not many of those who listened to the Prime Minister speaking in connection with Canadian Education Week, on Monday evening, February 4, knew that he had taught school many years ago in the province of New Brunswick. The following letter to his board of trustees was written by Mr. Bennett when he was principal of a small school in his native province:

"It is incumbent upon me to submit my annual and final report on the school under my supervision.

"The remarks made at the close of last term are applicable with equal force to the work of this term.

"During my stay of nearly two years in this place, I have come to the conclusion that the material is not lacking here to produce pupils of more than ordinary ability, but while I feel that such is the case, I cannot but remark that unless the parents are aroused and awakened from the apathy with which they now view all matters connected with school work, the fine abilities of their children will never be shown.

"I would remark that the school officers are sadly deficient in their duties. During my stay here I have not been favored by a visit from one of the trustees."—(Signed) Richard B. Bennett.—Moncton Times.

SHALL WE DIVIDE UP

The figures about Canadian savings deposits that were given to Parliament the other day are illuminating.

There are just over 4 million savings deposits in Canadian banks. In 3,766,000 of them there is not more than $1,000 on deposit, the average being about $110.

Another quarter of a million of the accounts have up to $5,000 in them.

There are a scant 30,000 accounts with more than $5,000 on deposit.

These 4 million accounts embrace a total of $900 millions.

Now $900 millions is a great deal of money. But $900 millions divided between 4,000,000 people is just about $225 per person. And $225 is hardly riches.

Let us see what would happen if all the savings deposits in the banks were divided up among the 4 millions odd accounts. We will ignore the fact that many of the large accounts are large because they represent the savings of groups of individuals who are the beneficiaries of trust and other funds. If the whole sum were divided up evenly among all the depositors it would amount to $340 per person. It would still be too small, to make everyone even moderately well off.

Of course there are other evidences of wealth, other tokens of ownership besides savings accounts. But they too are divided up much the same way as the money in the banks.

Too much attention is paid today to schemes for dividing up. It would be more to the point to devise ways and means of increasing the total wealth of the country, and of the world.—Financial Post.

ABOUT BOY SCOUTS

Helpfulness—3rd Scout Law
A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others, and he is to do his duty before everything else, even though he gives up his own pleasure, or comfort, or safety to do it. When in difficulty to know which of two things to do, he must ask himself, "Which is my duty?"—that is, "Which is the best for other people?" and do that one. He must be prepared at any time to save life, or to help injured persons and must try his best to do a good turn to somebody every day.

CREDITORS MUST BE TREATED FAIRLY

Justice Ewing Again Warns That Only Such Farmers Will Get Help

Mr. Justice Ewing, chairman of the Board of Review sitting in Calgary, again warned that farmers not dealing fairly with their creditors need not expect assistance.

Publicity respecting the generous concessions given farmer debtors by their creditors under agreements reached under supervision of the board of review might give farmers generally the impression they were entitled to the same concessions. Mr. Justice Ewing pointed out.

Such was not the case, his lordship said. Farmer debtors who appeared before the board were entitled to consideration when it was shown that they had had successive years of misfortune and had endeavored, honest-out success.

Mr. Justice Ewing's remarks followed the granting of concessions by creditors of a farmer in the Munson area who asserted he had good crops in only four out of 14 years.

The case was similar, in some respects, it was stated, to that of a farmer from the Medicine Hat district who appeared before the board and said he only had five crops in 21 years.

In the case of the Munson farmer, loan companies agreed to cut mortgages in half; a representative of a farm machinery company agreed to concessions; a bank agreed to allow $1.50 credit on a loan for every dollar paid, and a small trading organization agreed to cut in half a debt upon which no interest had been paid in four years.

The farmer, it was stated, had purchased farm machinery in 1929 at a cost of $1,836. During the succeeding years he paid off $766.65 but the balance owing now, including interest, was $1,766.56. The company agreed to cut this sum down to $1,500 and reduce the interest from 8 and 10 per cent to six per cent and make other

Late Snowstorm

A real old-fashioned snowstorm hit the Vulcan district over the week-end and on Monday the weatherman presented a mid-winter blizzard. From four to six inches of snow fell to blanket the district. The wind on Monday drifted the snow badly, and for the day all roads were practically impassable. In places the snow drifted to four and five feet deep. On Tuesday the weather was cold, but Wednesday saw the mercury rise from the thermometer bulb. The snow is melting fast, turning the roadways into mires of mud.

CARD OF THANKS

The committee in charge of the second annual drama festival wish to thank all who patronized the presentation on Monday evening, and all who assisted in making the event possible. Special thanks is given Mr. Guy Denhigh for his assistance backstage, to Mr. G. M. Whicher in his capacity as adjudicator, and to Len Davis and members of his orchestra for their assistance in supplying the music.

DISCONNECT MANY PHONES LAST YEAR

More than 10,000 provincial telephones were disconnected last year, while there were 5,448 connected in the same period, according to information given the Legislature by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of telephones. The telephones disconnected were made up of $7,842 urban and 2,805 rural. Those connected comprised 4,983 urban and 465 rural.

At Dec. 31 last, 57,877 telephones were in use in the province under the provincially-owned system. Arrivals on 4,646 urban telephones in use, amounted to $33,218 at the end of last year; while the arrears on 5,854 rural machines in use amounted to $92,358.

Non-subscribers' outstanding accounts amounted to $267,398 on rural lines at the end of last year, while there was $22,609 on urban lines.

About 2,416 miles of provincial telephone wires have been taken down, states the minister. Of this, 130 miles were long distance and 2,286 rural.

The minister estimates that 600 miles of rural line cannot be sold to mutual companies, and will have to be cut down.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Vulcan Advocate

A few days ago I wrote to the Attorney-General for information about a restaurant license and received my reply. I left my application form at the municipal office for the Town Council to accept or reject at the meeting of April 1st. The license was rejected for the reason that I was in arrears for taxes. But these taxes were O.K'd by a party in good financial standing—this was brought before the council. The council would not approve of this. What is the matter with our Town Council?

My license fees would be $1.00 from now till June 1st, and from then $2.00 for the next twelve months. These fees are sent to Edmonton, so the Town Council are not making or losing by approving my license, but would be doing a small favor by approving. My sole idea in applying for the license was in complying with the law. Why was it rejected?

Must a party be a Chinaman in order to have a restaurant license approved in the town of Vulcan? (Signed) M. O. PETERSON and that I have been in Congress for two months and haven't done it. Will you please take two running jumps and go to hell?"

Paraphrasing World Events

It takes longer to reforest mountains than it does to tell a grouchy voter where he can go. The place cannot be far distant or else the voter is a champion long jumper. Anyway he has had his orders. He can obey them or not as he chooses, but Mr. McGroarty, who we suspect is Irish, is not going to give him any chance to have revenge. His is the freedom of speech which many a representative would like to enjoy, but cannot. Even if he is not going to run again he has to think of his party, for jackasses are stubborn. They won't obey orders. And they all have votes.

If I only had a moustache like Der Fuehrer

I would shave it off and make my place securer.

Or let it grow full length (which would be wiser)

With handle-bars turned up, just like the Kaiser.

I'd chuck the Chaplin ersatz, for nothing can be surer

I'd never wear a moustache like Der Fuehrer.

A Welshman who was stricken blind eighteen years ago has recovered his sight and is disappointed in our looks. He expected people to look more peaceful. Doubtless the stress of the past six years has made its mark on the physiognomy, as it has on the purse.

The secretary of the Ontario Temperance Union predicts that the decrease in the tax on spirits will mean an increase in consumption. It probably will, but we shall never know how much of that increase is offset by a decrease in the consumption of illicit spirits which pays no tax and therefore is outside the sunlight of statistics.

Mayors, meeting in Montreal, want the federal government to interest itself in municipal finances. Time was when their predecessors would have resented such action on the part of the government as undue interference.

Even though the present differences in Europe may be composed, it will only be temporarily. For many years to come, Prussianism will be a disturbing factor. It could hardly be otherwise. It is a state of mind brought about by two centuries of education and training. It is now ingrained in the fibre. The superiority complex which helped to bring on the war is still there in spite of the defeat of 1918 which produced another complex not unlike the persecution mania. They are still formidable, and still dangerous because they are still militaristic. Before and during the war, they showed an amazing lack of comprehension of world sentiment and opinion, and many things that have happened there recently indicate that they, like the Bourbons, have learned nothing and forgotten nothing.

Only a few months ago, Hitler killed two or three women accused of spying. A short time before, he massacred at least seventy, perhaps many more, of his enemies and called it a purge. He no doubt thought that people who expressed horror of it were hypocrites. It probably never occurred to him that such atrocities would shock the world. In no other civilized country, outside of Russia, could such barbaric conduct be possible on the part of the government. (Such deeds were done in England three centuries ago). Europe cannot afford the dominance of a man who would commit such crimes, nor the dominance of a country that would tolerate them.

Democracy is justified in this, that if anyone is given power to make mistakes in government it should be the people themselves. They who have to bear the consequence of mistakes should alone have the privilege of making them. For a long time it was exercised by male owners of property. Later it was extended to all males over twenty-one. Then it was extended to embrace women. The more we extended it the more mistakes we made. In Quebec the privilege of making mistakes is not extended to women, but even there, there is criticism of the government, and a growing demand that the privilege be extended to women in the vain hope of rectifying the errors of men.
